Broken windows, broken laws: Pro-Palestinian protesters barricade themselves inside Columbia University's Hamilton Hall. Last year, antisemitic, anti-Israel, anti-American student mobs besieged college campuses nationwide. They vow to repeat it with a vengeance this school year.

We have met the anti-Israel student terrorists—now we will defeat them

Dear Friend of Israel, Friend of FLAME:

Jewish students from the City University of New York (CUNY) recently attending a Hillel welcome-back dinner were surrounded by masked, screaming protesters who banged on windows and chanted, "Terrorist! Terrorist! Terrorist! All Zionists are racist! Dogs off campus!" The protesters shoved pictures of dead babies in students' faces and assaulted a Hillel staffer.

Campuses are already paying the price of last school year's weak-kneed, appeasing administration responses, as violence and threats by radicals ratchet up again.

Last school year was a nightmare for Jewish college students. They and most higher education administrators were unprepared for the explosion of illegal campus demonstrations expressing anti-Israel, anti-Jewish and anti-American hate.

Jewish students were physically attacked and their civil rights blatantly and unashamedly denied them by protesters. Universities were trespassed and vandalized, and their rules enforcing respectful behavior and academic freedom were trampled. Sadly, it took both Jewish students and college administrators nearly the entire school year to understand—and respond to—the full impact of the calamity.

While some punitive efforts were begun by government agencies, some legal proceedings initiated by students, and some corrective policies introduced by universities, the dust has not settled. Virtually no criminal protesters nor negligent universities have been punished. As the new school year begins,

THIS MONTH'S AD APPEARED IN MEDIA REACHING 10 MILLION PEOPLE NATIONWIDE.

YOU DESERVE TO KNOW THE TRUTH...

Stop Terrorism on Campus
Attacks on Israel and Jews on scores of American universities have exploded into a jihadi-fueled, violent revolution against American freedoms and values

What are the facts?
Anti-Semitic acts on U.S. college campuses have skyrocketed by 70% since Hamas' October 7 massacre in Israel—and they've become more violent. Jewish students have been harassed, harmed from afar, and physically attacked by pro-Hamas demonstrators, reminiscent of Nazi behavior in 1930s Germany. Scandalously, while schools (often) have speech against Black, Muslim and LGBTQ+ students, they refuse to protect Jewish and pro-Israel students.

Massive campus administrations—and faculty—have become so emboldened, they no longer hide their views for the United States. Instead, they're waving American flags and replacing them with those of non-existent "Palestine." Truth, they preach, and civil liberties as freedom of speech, routinely seize and destroy school property and deny civil due. Institutions have opened the door to anti-

Anti-American and anti-semitic goals inspired by Islamist terror: No wonder pro-Hamas protesters paint the words of jihad (and apostasy, i.e., "Death to America! Death to Israel!") No surprise, either, that campus protesters cheered such massive trouble and drove attacks on Israel recently. Their stated goal is to "globalize the intifada." Millions support the proxy Hamas' mission to create an Islamist caliphate, as well as the terrorist group's slaughter of some 1,200 innocent Israeli, Jewish, the media showed "From the river to the sea, Palestine will be free," a demand the U.S. House of Representatives recently declared to be antisemitic—a call for genocide of seven million Israeli Jews.

A revolution of hate that opposes civil liberties and academic freedom: This violent revolutionary movement is rooted in neo-Marxism, which divides the world into oppressor and oppressed. The ideology, which holds dominant American university culture, has inspired both critical race theory (CRT) and Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) policies. It classifies people, organizations and nations into a range of good and evil according to their biasness on the oppressor-oppressed scale. Oppressors are defined to defeat "no one means necessary"—a slogan seen at many anti-Israel protests. Campus revolutionaries and their faculty mentors consider Jews, Israel and the U.S. to be "white" oppressors and therefore subject to violent "resistance"—such as breaking into and setting buildings, attacking Jewish students, and preventing " Zionist" students' access to their own campus.

College administrators have scandalously failed to do their jobs: Their two foremost responsibilities are to protect students' safety and academic freedom. That means no violence, harassment or intimidation of Jewish or any students. It means honoring the search for truth and free expression—and forbidding "cancel culture." Finally, administrators must apply policies fairly. If hate speech or calls for genocide against any ethnic group on campus is not permitted, college administrators cannot allow anti-semitism or calls for Israeli destruction.

Four ways Americans can shut down terror on campus. If college administrators who fail to speak violence and hate speech—and/or fail to protect students' freedom—should be removed. Students who violate school policies on hate speech, harassment, flag desecration, or trespassing should be suspended or expelled. Faculty who do the same—either those with tenure—should be fired for cause.

Their behavior is hateful, harmful and often unlawful
If Congress must increase penalties related to antisemitic and unlawful behavior on campus, on schools and revocation of visas for foreign students who participate in antisemitic or unlawful activities.

21 Colleges should face dire legal consequences for failing to stamp out anti-semitism. Already Columbia University faces a lawsuit that alleges "wreck the school" harassment of Jewish students, who have been punched, shoved, spat on, blocked from attending classes and moving freely about campus. Dozens of other U.S. colleges face similar federal lawsuits.

41 Dozens should withhold gifts from colleges that refuse to act against anti-semitism. Many donors have already canceled their giving, including Robert Koch, CEO of the New England Patriots, who pulled his support from Columbia University due to unacknowledged law hatred.

The current behavior of "pro-Palestinian" activists at American colleges and universities is hateful, harmful and too often unlawful—on campuses. If your outrage ignited by Jewish college students were directed against any other ethnic or "imperialist" group on campus, it would not be a national law violation, it would raise serious and valid. Time to shut down the intifada.

FLAME is the only organization that defends Israel with paid editorial hasbarah messages placed in media nationwide every month: The dire threats from Iran, Hamas and Hizbollah, the injustice of BDS, Palestinian anti-Semitism and more. If you organizers of last year's insurrection are making their intentions clear: They're back with a vengeance. It's time for those who care about Israel, Jewish students and hallowed values of higher education in America to assess the battleground. What have we learned about the motivations, ideologies and strategies of the protesters? What do we know about who is funding them? What do we understand about forcing university leaders to protect academic freedom and student safety? What do we know about the legal recourse open to those whose rights are violated on campus? Finally, how can we who are invested in these issues and their fair outcomes ensure that justice is done—that we defeat student terrorism?

Supporters of Israel, Jewish students and academic freedom now understand that our campus enemies are neo-Marxist revolutionaries. A few weeks ago, the Student Intifada coalition of anti-Israel pro-Palestinians groups promised “the total eradication of Western civilization.” They tell us they are fighting “US colonialist and imperialist institutions.” The neo-Marxists also say the world consists of two kinds of people—oppressors and oppressed. Jews and most Americans are considered oppressors.

Adding a racist note, the pro-Palestinian thugs simplistically claim that the oppressed are people of color, while their oppressors are white. Israel is thus (somehow) a white, colonial state—ignoring the fact that Jews originated as an indigenous people of color in the Middle East, and most Israelis are people of color.

Pro-Hamas demonstrators are well-funded by establishment organizations. According to an analysis by Politico, donors include a who's who of Democratic Party supporters: Soros, Rockefeller and Pritzker. Pro-Hamas protesters also receive funding from abroad. The top donor? Qatar, which has donated more than $3 billion to about 28 universities across the U.S. since 2012. Qatar gives refuge to Hamas leaders and is a major financier of the terrorist group. Qatar's funds are used to promote Marxist and postmodern thought, as well as anti-Israeli events, such as Israeli Apartheid Week.

Some efforts have forced meaningful reforms on campus, while others have not. For example, some donors have withheld their donations from colleges in the hopes of forcing them to fight Jew-hatred. In one case, Robert Kraft, CEO of the New England Patriots, pulled his donations to Columbia University. Unfortunately, little evidence proves that such withdrawals of individual financial support influence major universities.

Lawsuits and civil rights complaints have proven more effective. Following a lawsuit against New York University (NYU), where pro-Hamas protesters chanted, “gas the Jews,” the university updated its Non-Discrimination and Harassment Policy to include language that identified “Zionist” as a term that can conceal the antisemitic intent of speech and other conduct that denigrates and excludes Jews.

In another settlement, North Carolina State University agreed to update its anti-discrimination policies to recognize anti-Zionism as a form of antisemitism and include antisemitism in its programming on racial and ethnic hatred.

Some lawmakers have also taken action to protect Jewish students and college campuses from student terrorists. North Carolina recently passed a law requiring all state institutions to abide by the IHRA definition of antisemitism, which includes anti-Zionism. Ohio passed the CAMPUS Act, which requires public and private universities to adopt and enforce policies regarding racial, religious, and ethnic harassment.

At the federal level, the Restoring Civility on Campus Act was recently introduced in the Senate. It is intended to provide more transparency for federal civil rights investigations into reports of discrimination based on shared ancestry or ethnic characteristics, which includes antisemitism and Islamophobia. This legislation also increases fines that can be levied on colleges for failing to disclose a crime motivated by antisemitism on their annual security reports. Unfortunately, this Act has yet to pass, let alone prove successful in quashing hate on campus.

Lessons learned to fight back against student terrorism on campus: 1) Neo-Marxist ideology is the main motivator for the pro-Hamas protesters. Rooting out curricula and faculty that foster this revolutionary ideology, such as critical race theory and violent “resistance”—including genocide—should be a top priority. Abolishing faculty tenure would also allow a housecleaning of revolutionaries ensconced in academic positions.

2) Funding that promotes the teaching of antisemitism and anti-Americanism needs to be curtailed, particularly that which comes from terrorist-supporting countries like Qatar.

3) State and federal levels of government need to enact legislation that ensures Jewish students are equally protected from hate-fueled discrimination on campus. Colleges should be required to include antisemitism and anti-Zionism as part of their anti-discrimination policies. Violators should be subject to severe financial penalties.

4) We should encourage aggressive legal action against post-secondary institutions that fail to protect Jewish students, as this has proven effective in changing these institutions' policies.

illegal acts or break school policies deserve harsh punishment. Finally, we must ensure that Jewish students—and all other students—experience a safe learning environment, no matter their political leanings.

Facts and Logic About the Middle East (FLAME)

P.S. The riots, vandalism and illegal trespassing on American college campuses have sharpened the knives of the Israel haters. It's become clear that the "pro-Palestinian" protesters are purely anti-Israel and support the genocide of Jews "between the river and the sea." Scandalously, we've also seen hard evidence that university administrators are willing to ignore or openly support the antisemitic hate speech and harassment of Jewish students—though they would never permit such behavior against other minorities. I hope you'll agree that we supporters of Jewish students and hate-free campuses need to speak out. FLAME's new hasbarah—explanatory message—"Stop Terrorism on Campus"—calls for four actions to eliminate campus outlaws and to restore rights to all students. Please review this convincing, fact-based editorial, which FLAME recently published in the Washington Post, Wall Street Journal, New York Post, Chicago Tribune, Tampa Bay Times, Denver Post and Mercury News. This piece will also be sent to all members of Congress, Vice President Harris and President Biden.
